Team Voices article says 'bookmark icon' but live UI and other articles say 'heart icon'

Adding Favorites to Your Team Voices · help.wellsaid.io/…/39579059077395-Adding-Favorites-to-Your-Team-Voices

HELP ARTICLE

CURRENT

Article instructs: 'Click the bookmark icon on the voice card to add it to Team Voices.'

SUGGESTED FIX

The live Studio UI uses a heart icon for favoriting voices. The sibling article 'Favoriting a Voice' (updated the same day) correctly describes clicking the 'heart icon on the voice card.' The 'Getting Started with WellSaid Studio' article also says 'clicking the heart icon on the voice card.' Update 'bookmark icon' to 'heart icon' for consistency with the live UI and other help articles.

WHAT CHANGED

Three sources confirm the heart icon: (1) The 'Favoriting a Voice' article (updated 2026-04-17) says 'Click the heart icon on the voice card to add it to Favorites.' (2) The 'Getting Started with WellSaid Studio' article (updated 2026-04-15) says 'Save frequently used Voices by clicking the heart icon on the voice card.' (3) The previous scan's UI audit (carried-forward issue on 'A Hub, for All Your Voices') confirmed the live Studio uses a heart icon for favoriting/unfavoriting. The 'Adding Favorites to Your Team Voices' article (also updated 2026-04-17) uses 'bookmark icon' which contradicts all three sources. [Mode B UI audit: CONFIRMED: Button says 'Save to favorites' (text), not bookmark or heart icon]

HELP ARTICLE

Article says: 'selecting the voice avatar image above the text editor'

SUGGESTED FIX

Replace 'voice avatar image' with the current voice selector UI element name.

WHAT CHANGED

WellSaid has renamed all 'Avatar' references to 'Voices' throughout the product UI. [Mode B UI audit: CONFIRMED: Voice cards show name + Play/Favorites/Use buttons, no 'voice avatar image']

HELP ARTICLE

CURRENT

Article refers to 'Open the Voice Library'

SUGGESTED FIX

Replace 'Voice Library' with 'Voices' to match the current dialog title.

WHAT CHANGED

Combine feature claimed to be 'only available in Standard' but Release Notes indicate it's for Caruso

How Do Unlimited Retakes Work? · help.wellsaid.io/…/39268444196755-How-Do-Unlimited-Retakes-Work

HELP ARTICLE

CURRENT

Please note that the Combine feature is currently only available in Standard.

SUGGESTED FIX

The Combine Clips feature was introduced in December 2025 as a Caruso project feature, not a Legacy Studio Standard model feature. Update to reflect current Caruso/modern Studio availability.

WHAT CHANGED

Release Notes (February 2026) state under December 2025: 'You can now combine multiple rendered sections into a single audio file—directly in a Caruso project.' The Caruso model is the modern, recommended model for WellSaid Studio (distinct from legacy Standard model). Page 7's claim appears to reference outdated information or an earlier product configuration.

SUGGESTED FIX

With a WellSaid subscription, you can craft clips containing up to 5,000 characters or combine longer clips and seamlessly integrate them into your Adobe Express project.

WHAT CHANGED

The entire article is titled 'WellSaid Studio for Adobe Express' and focuses on Adobe Express integration. The page describes the Adobe Express add-on workflow. The mention of 'Canva' appears to be a copy-paste error from documentation for a different platform or product. Canva is a separate design platform, not Adobe Express.

ARTICLE SCREENSHOT

Button row: IMPORT LIBRARY, EXPORT LIBRARY, and the green NEW WORD button

SUGGESTED FIX

The library page is now called 'Libraries' and the primary action button to add a replacement is 'New Replacement' (not 'NEW WORD'). Per the terminology rubric, 'PRONUNCIATION' has been renamed to 'Replacements' product-wide.

WHAT CHANGED

Article body references navigating to 'Pronunciation from the left menu' but live Studio left-nav now uses 'Libraries' (see right-rail-voices.png reference showing 'Open libraries' and 'New replacement' instead of 'New word'). Related article 39113078033555 text explicitly says 'select New Replacement' when adding from the library, confirming the current button label.

LIVE UI

Project card with 'Standard' label and no '(Beta)' tag — Caruso/Beta designation removed

SUGGESTED FIX

Caruso is no longer a beta feature; it is a production model. Project types on the live product are 'WellSaid Studio', 'Legacy Studio - Standard', and 'Legacy Studio - Global'. The 'Current / Future BETA' designation has been removed in all modes per the drift rubric.

WHAT CHANGED

Drift rubric states 'Current / Future BETA dropdown gone in all modes'. Article 40960191236371 (Sample Rates) and others now describe Caruso as 'our most advanced model' without beta qualification. Article 39122054203795 lists current project types as 'WellSaid Studio (Recommended)' and 'Legacy Studio - Standard and Global' with no beta label.

SUGGESTED FIX

WellSaid Studio supports multiple additional languages beyond those listed: Arabic, Chinese (Cantonese and Mandarin), Danish, Dutch, French, German, Italian, Japanese, Korean, Persian, Polish, Portuguese, Spanish, Swedish, and Turkish

WHAT CHANGED

The article lists 6 supported import languages (English, French, German, Italian, Portuguese, Spanish). WellSaid supports 15+ languages for TTS synthesis including Arabic, Japanese, Korean, etc. However, script import may intentionally be limited to Latin-script languages due to text processing constraints. Legacy clip rows shown with all-caps 'CREATE' button (title case in current)

Reorder, Move, and Copy Sections or Clips · help.wellsaid.io/…/39122443786899-Reorder-Move-and-Copy-Sections-or-Clips

ARTICLE SCREENSHOT

All-caps green CREATE button above clip list

LIVE UI

Title-case 'Create single take' button with dropdown caret (replaces all-caps 'CREATE')

SUGGESTED FIX

Legacy Standard's primary CTA is now title-case 'Create single take' with a dropdown caret (per legacy-standard-editor ref); the button still exists so this is a minor case-drift only.

WHAT CHANGED

Per rubric DOWNGRADE/DROP: 'CREATE SINGLE TAKE button (exists as title-case Create single take in Legacy — minor case drift, not removal)'. Flow/toolbar otherwise matches legacy-standard-clip-row ref.

Projects page uses 'Search Project or Client' placeholder

Team Collaboration · help.wellsaid.io/…/39176886765075-Team-Collaboration

ARTICLE SCREENSHOT

PERSONAL | SHARED | TEAM tabs + 'Search Project or Client' placeholder

LIVE UI

Search placeholder 'Search by name or description' — 'Client' replaced with 'description'

SUGGESTED FIX

Current UI per projects-home ref uses left-rail workspace nav (not horizontal tabs) and 'Client' terminology has been replaced by 'Description'

WHAT CHANGED

Per rubric 'Client name' was renamed to 'Description'; the screenshot still uses the old 'Client' terminology in the search placeholder. Current projects home also no longer shows PERSONAL/SHARED/TEAM horizontal tabs.

How to read it

WellSaid Drift Monitor compares your published content with your sources of truth on every scan. When they disagree it raises an alert with the evidence, where it appears and a suggested fix. Severity reflects how likely the gap is to mislead a learner or customer: critical first, then warning, then info.

Findings are advisory. Please verify content before making changes.
